co.uk! These evocative sound engines are evocative of a time when analog synthesis was the cornerstone of electronic music and we believe that these unique instruments will become the beating heart of your musical universe. Vintage inspired oscillators are at the core of these machines, and while they're not the most recent thing, the technology behind them remains very innovative. We have done an incredible amount of research into the production techniques used to create these and have also researched and improved on the sound of vintage analog synths. We wanted to keep the familiar when using the Korg Volca, but we have added features like Sub octave, Drive, Low Pass, Modulation and a myriad of other exciting features to create new sounds not found in any other commercial synth. In addition to this the machines are both sequencer-based and fully programmable, allowing you to create your own signature sound from any of the 16 presets included in the pack. These machines are simply incredibly intuitive to use, and once you get to know them they are so easy to use that you can compose your own music in a matter of hours, and not days! All 16 synthesizers in Retro Machines are inspired by the original hardware and have a style that is instantly recognisable. From the 24 voice, 8 oscillator Sequencer/Keyboard machine to the 16 voice and 8 oscillator monosynth, each machine has been designed to sit perfectly alongside a hardware synth and make it a complete and totally original synthesizer. We are confident that you will love each machine in the pack and have them composing the soundtrack to your music. Retro Machines contains a series of iconic analog synthesizers with an unmistakable style and easy to use user interface. They're not for the beginner, but once you have been taught how to use them, they're easy to use and they're fun. These vintage synthesizers are re-created using today's technology to produce authentic sounds, and they sound fantastic. Retrogaming has a passion for these machines and has over 20 years of experience developing software for them. Please enjoy, and most of all, let us know what you think.
